

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An imaging system uses sensors to traverse an external portion of an object to generate a three dimensional image of the object.